

AROUND THE NT BAR

Michael Grant

Michael Grant is a barrister at William Forster Chambers in Darwin, Northern Territory.

Michael was first admitted to practice in the Northern Territory in February 1993, having completed articles of clerkship at the Northern Territory's Attorney General's Department.

He continued to work at the Attorney General's Department and was appointed Director of Litigation in February 1998. He spent periods acting as Chief Executive Officer of the Department.

Michael has lectured in torts and taxation law in the Faculty of Law and in advanced taxation law in the Faculty of Business at Northern Territory University in Darwin.

Michael joined William Forster Chambers in February 1999.

Michael's areas of practice include administrative law, property law, personal injuries, workers compensation, motor accidents compensation, constitutional law and common law matters generally.

Peter McNab

Peter McNab is a barrister at William Forster Chambers in Darwin, Northern Territory.

Peter holds Law degrees from the University of Western Australia, graduating in 1978-79.

After completing his tertiary education, he moved to the Northern Territory. After a year of articles with a Darwin law firm (then known as Waters, James and O'Neil), in 1980 he joined the Commonwealth Attorney-General's Department, Darwin, where he worked from 1980 — 1993 (on leave teaching at the Northern Territory University 1989-1993; studying at the University of Melbourne in 1992). He left the Commonwealth as a Principal Legal Officer with experience in all major fields of law.

Peter joined the Northern Territory University in 1989. In 1994 he took 12 months leave without pay from the Northern Territory University to take up a senior position in the Office of the Northern Territory Anti-Discrimination Commissioner.

In September 2000 he left the Northern Territory University School of Law, where he was a Senior Lecturer, to join the independent bar. As a barrister, he looks forward to further involvement in his specialist areas (see below) as well as developing other areas of law, particularly in appellate advocacy.

Peter has had a long history teaching, studying and sometimes litigating in constitutional and administrative law in the Northern Territory. In 1998 he was an appointed delegate to the NT Statehood Convention.

He has appeared as instructing solicitor, and later as junior counsel, in the High Court of Australia in several cases.
