

Editorial announcement

This is a special issue that commemorates the 10th Anniversary of the eJournal of Tax Research. The 10th Anniversary issue comprises papers from leading tax researchers around the world. Many members of the Editorial Board have contributed to this special issue. I also wish to take this opportunity to report some recent developments of the eJournal.

Firstly, and most importantly, the eJournal has recently been ranked an A journal by the Australian Business Deans Council (ABDC). This new and improved ranking by the ABDC is in addition to the continuing A ranking of the eJournal by the Council of Australian Law Deans. This is a very good news and we will be striving hard to maintain and improve our new ranking by the ABDC.

Secondly, Eddie Wong, our valued production editor, resigned to take up a job at a law firm in late 2013. However, we are fortunate to be able to appoint Ashley Cheng, a combined-degree graduate with first class honours in economics, to a fixed-term production editorship. We are confident that Ashley will continue the good work of previous production editors.

Thirdly, I wish to congratulate Nolan who was appointed Winthrop Professor of Law at the University of Western Australia (UWA), a member of the Group of Eight universities in Australia, with effect from 1 January 2014. Nolan has been a coeditor of the eJournal since December 2010 and has made important contributions to the development of the eJournal. I have enjoyed working with Nolan and wish to take this opportunity to thank him. I wish him all the best in his new appointment.

Nolan's move to UWA necessitates a change in the eJournal's coeditorship. I am pleased to announce that Professor John Taylor, Head of School of Taxation and Business Law (Atax) at UNSW Australia, has kindly agreed to become coeditor of the eJournal. John is a highly respected tax law academic who has published widely in various areas of taxation, including double tax treaties, corporate shareholder taxation, cross-border aspects of corporate shareholder taxation, taxation of income flowing through non-corporate intermediate entities, and capital gains tax. His appointment will further strengthen the reputation of the eJournal and I look forward to a positive collaboration with him.
