

Part III: Route of the New Railway

The railway will commence at a suitable point on the existing railway between Launceston and Herrick, known as the North Eastern Line, approximately 8 miles from Launceston.

The railway will proceed in a generally northerly direction for approximately 17 miles and extend by a spur line to the site of the proposed woodchip works near William Creek. From the junction with the spur line it will continue in a generally northerly direction for approximately 6 miles, and will then proceed in a generally westerly direction for approximately 4 miles, ending at the Bell Bay Wharf.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF this agreement has been executed by the parties as at the day and the year first above written.
